

The Chimera

Another three-headed beast, the Chimera had the heads of a lion, a goat, and a snake. The lion's head breathed fire. The hero Bellerophon killed this terrifying monster. Bellerophon thrust a spear tipped with lead into the mouth of the monster while riding on the back of the winged horse Pegasus. The lead melted inside the Chimera's fiery mouth, choking it.