

Minotaur

With the body of a man and the head of a bull, the Minotaur frightened all who saw him. He lived in the middle of a giant maze. He fed on young Athenians who were sacrificed to him. The hero Theseus found his way to the center of the maze, trailing a string of thread behind him. He killed the Minotaur and followed the thread to find his way back out.